RE: Paraprofessional Qualifications for those Working with Students Receiving Special Education Services

Yvette M. Richardson, Ed.D.
District IV

Section 1111(g)(2)(M) of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), as amended by the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), requires each State to have “professional standards for paraprofessionals working in a program supported with funds under [Title I, Part A].” In addition, the Federal Register §300.156(a)(b)(1)(iii) states that “the State Education Agency (SEA) must establish and maintain qualifications to ensure that personnel necessary to carry out the purposes of this part are appropriately and adequately prepared and trained, including that those personnel have the content knowledge and skills necessary to serve children with disabilities.” It also “allows paraprofessionals and assistants who are appropriately trained and supervised, in accordance with State law, regulation, or written policy, in meeting the requirements of this part, to be used to assist in the provision of special education and related services under this part to children with disabilities.” In order to be consistent with the requirements of these laws, the Special Education Services Section has established the following requirements for all paraprofessionals working with students who are Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) eligible:

In 2004, the Alabama State Department of Education approved the WorkKeys Assessment to meet the requirement outlined in bullet 3 on the previous page. Currently, the requirements are a minimum of Level 3 scores on the following tests: Applied Math, Work Place Documents, and Business Writing. Previously, the required tests were Applied Mathematics, Reading, and Writing.

In order to be employed as a Personal Care Paraprofessional (those not providing any instructional support), an individual must meet the following qualifications: Secondary school diploma or its recognized equivalent.

If a person provides both instructional support and non-instructional support, the higher of the options must apply.

For further information regarding paraprofessionals, please contact Mrs. Cindy Augustine at caugustine@alsde.edu or Mrs. Susan Goldthwaite at sgoldthwaite@alsde.edu or you may reach them at 334-242-8114.
